Topic: "Brave New World: Intellectual Property Issues in Virtual Worlds"

For the final IPSANZ event of 2008, Lisa will be presenting on the topic of virtual worlds, with a particular focus on intellectual property issues which may arise for individuals and businesses that create products, provide services or establish a business presence within virtual worlds. Virtual worlds can provide many business opportunities, which have been utilised by a wide range of organisations including universities and research & development organisations. However, unauthorised use of intellectual property can create "real-life" issues which businesses need to be aware of and take steps to minimise.
